For/Against	Support

From and Economic Development/Inward Investment point of view, we would be supportive of this application. The poultry business as it stands is clearly no longer viable due to the age of the asset, but also the change in the poultry sector, which like most agricultural and horticultural businesses, are now only financially viable as large enterprises, making use of economies of scale. In our opinion, this would be an acceptable use of the site which would benefit both the local and wider economy of South Holland.
