CASE OFFICER ASSESSMENT

Proposal

This is an outline application for residential development on land adjacent to 10 Eastfield House, Beck Bank, Gosberton Clough.

An indicative block plan submitted with the application shows two plots with a shared access off Beck Bank.

Site Description

The site is the side garden of a property known as Eastfield House, which is laid to lawn. The site is mostly surrounded by post and rail fencing and there are some trees within/adjacent to the site. There are a mixture of detached and semi-detached two storey properties in the locality of varying design and plot size.

The site is located within the settlement boundary for Gosberton Risegate and Clough in the South East Lincolnshire Local Plan (2019).

History

H08-0530-00 - Outline application for one dwelling (refused)

H08-0218-05 - Residential development - four terraced houses with associated parking (refused and dismissed on appeal)

Consultation Responses

LCC Highways/SUDS - Does not wish to restrict the grant of permission.

SHDC Environmental Protection - No comments or objections.

No resident comments have been received.

Planning Considerations

- Principle
- Flood risk
- Impact upon character and appearance of the area
- Residential amenity

Principle

The site is located within the settlement boundary for Gosberton Risegate and Clough as set out in the South East Lincolnshire Local Plan (2019). Policy 1 (Spatial Strategy) of the Local Plan classifies Gosberton Risegate and Clough within the Other Service Centres and Settlements tier of the settlement hierarchy and states that within the settlement boundaries of these settlements, development will normally be limited to Committed sites and infill. The site is located between existing frontage properties and is considered to be infill development which complies with Policy 1.

Flood risk

The NPPF requires the application of the Sequential Test to steer new development to areas with the lowest probability of flooding. If, following the application of the Sequential Test, it is not possible, consistent with wider sustainability objectives, for the development to be located in zones with a lower probability of flooding, the Exceptions Test can be applied if appropriate.

The South East Lincolnshire Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (March 2017) is the basis for applying the Sequential Test. This concludes that the vast majority of South Holland District is in Flood Zones 2 and 3. Therefore, consistent with wider sustainability objectives, it is not realistically possible to direct all development to zones with a lower probability of flooding. As such, the document outlines a methodology whereby the SFRA hazard and depth maps (in that order) are to be utilised when determining flood risk and applying the sequential test. Using this methodology it is possible to use the information to steer development towards the areas of lower flood risks as advised within Section 14 of the NPPF.

The site is located within Environment Agency Flood Zones 1 and 3 and the South East Lincolnshire Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (March 2017) classifies the site as no hazard in terms of hazard and depth.

The Local Plan has identified sequentially preferable sites in terms of flood risk that are capable of meeting the identified housing targets for individual settlements. However, given that the Council do not currently have a published 5-year housing land supply, it could be argued that it can not currently be demonstrated that there are sufficient reasonably available sites for housing that are sequentially preferable in flood risk terms across the district. As such, one could argue that, should the site be acceptable in all other regards, and if the Exceptions Test is successfully passed, that the site is acceptable in flood risk terms, notwithstanding the fact that there are sequentially preferable sites in the adopted Local Plan.

In order for the Exceptions Test to be passed, it must be demonstrated that the proposed development will provide wider sustainability benefits to the community that outweigh flood risk, and that it will be safe for its lifetime, without increasing flood risk elsewhere and where possible reduce flood risk overall.

It is accepted that the development would provide some wider sustainability benefits to the community through its ability to help meet the housing need, and other benefits including generating employment during the construction period.

In terms of making the development safe, this would result in finished floor levels being set at 3.35m OD. This would be sufficient to mitigate against flood risk.

Given the above, it is considered reasonable to conclude that the Exceptions Test can be passed in this instance.

Impact upon character and appearance of the area

The site is located within a large cluster of dwellings fronting on to Clough Road and Beck Bank. Existing residential development is low density and the site is on the rural fringe of Gosberton Clough. However, given that the site is located in between existing residential development it is not considered that the proposed development would have a material adverse impact on the character and appearance of the area.

Residential amenity

Although the specific details of design and layout would be dealt with at reserved matters stage, it is considered that an acceptable standard of residential amenity is capable of being provided.

There would be adequate separation distances between existing dwellings meaning that the proposed development should not be overbearing in nature or result in a material loss of light and the proposed dwellings can be designed so as to minimise overlooking.

Conclusion

Taking the above into account, the proposal is considered to be in accordance with Policies 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the South East Lincolnshire Local Plan (2019) as well as Sections 12 and 14 of the National Planning Policy Framework (2019).

The recommendation is therefore for a delegated approval.

Additional Considerations

Public Sector Equality Duty

In making your decision you must have regard to the public sector equality duty (PSED) under s.149 of the Equalities Act. This means that the Council must have due regard to the need (in discharging its functions) to:

A. Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act.

B. Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not. This may include removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by persons who share a relevant protected characteristic that are connected to that characteristic; taking steps to meet the special needs of those with a protected characteristic; encouraging participation in public life (or other areas where they are underrepresented) of people with a protected characteristic(s).

C. Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not including tackling prejudice and promoting understanding.

The protected characteristics are age, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.

The PSED must be considered as a relevant factor in making this decision but does not impose a duty to achieve the outcomes in s.149 is only one factor that needs to be considered, and may be balance against other relevant factors.

It is not considered that the recommendation in this case will have a disproportionately adverse impact on a protected characteristic.

Human Rights

In making your decision, you should be aware of and take into account any implications that may arise from the Human Rights Act 1998. Under the Act, it is unlawful for a public authority such as South Holland District Council to act in a manner that is incompatible with the European Convention on Human Rights.

You are referred specifically to Article 8 (right to respect for private and family life), Article 1 of the First Protocol (protection of property). It is not considered that the recommendation in this case interferes with local residents' right to respect for their private and family life, home and correspondence, except insofar as it is necessary to protect the rights and freedoms of others (in this case, the rights of the applicant). The Council is also permitted to control the use of property in accordance with the general interest and the recommendation is considered to be a proportionate response to the submitted application based on the considerations set out in this report.
