Dear James,

I apologise for the email late in application process, I am chockablock with work. Please see the below photo showing a menage on the proposal site. This menage is not on the plans and constitutes operational development. Please find attached an amendment form to be submitted alongside the updated plans that shown the menage. A list of layers of construction and details of the fencing will also be required, as well as a description of how waste will be stored and removed from site.

Kind regards,
