Thank you for consulting us on this. The proposed development site had potential for archaeological remains to be impacted by the development. For this reason, we are pleased that the applicant submitted an archaeological Desk-based assessment and undertook a non-intrusive geophysics survey, followed by a pre-determination scheme of intrusive archaeological trench evaluation.

Having reviewed the documents for this application, and because of the archaeological trench evaluation results, no further archaeological fieldwork is required on this site. Consequently, no further archaeological input is necessary for this application.
