Minerva House currently has about 23 parking spaces and there are 8 in Phase 2. NCFM now employs 45 staff and routinely has 50 people on site which this can increase to up to 100 on busy days. The rural nature of the campus means that most people have to drive to NCFM. The pressure on car parking has resulted on people parking on the un-adopted land owned by LCC directly in front of phase 2. This area is an eyesore and dangerous due to the potholes. We do not direct visitors to this car park on grounds of health & safety but invariably people do park on it. This piece of land is earmarked for development which means that it will not be available in the future. Staff have been forced to park on grassland next to Minerva House and this has led to at least one reported accident when conditions were wet.
A new 45 space gravel car park is proposed, to be sited on unused grassland adjacent to Minerva House and it is intended that the car park will serve customers at Minerva and the National Centre for Food Manufacturing Building.
There will be some cut and fill works and the excavated material will be used on site to create a bund, there is a proposal to create some additional disabled parking bays adjacent to Minerva to ensure that an adequate number of disabled parking bays is provided on site.
