NOTES: (Please read these before completing the application).

1. Listed building consent is required for any demolition, alteration or extension of a listed building or of a building within the grounds of a listed building (a listed building is one which appears on the Secretary of State for the Environment's list of buildings of special architectural or historic interest). Listed building consent is usually also required for the demolition of all or part of a building in a designated Conservation Area.
2. Application for listed building consent should be made on this form. Application for approval under the Building Regulations will be required for any building work, and forms are obtainable from the Planning Office.
   Any application for planning permission should be made on forms (LCP 1) obtainable from the Planning Office: planning permission may be required for alteration or extension to a building, and will be required for any re-development. The Planning Office will advise you if you are in doubt.
3. Submission of applications
   (a) Three copies of this form should be submitted together with three copies of the drawings (see below). The Planning Office may ask for further copies in some instances, however.
   (b) An application must be accompanied by a Certificate. Certificate 'A' applies if you are the sole owner of the land. Certificate 'B' applies if you are not, and you will then have to give notice to the owner(s).
   (c) Site plans must be submitted with all applications. It should be drawn at a suitable scale, e.g. 1:2500 and should show the building or land to which the application relates (edged red) and other land in the same ownership (edged blue) with sufficient details to enable the site and the building to be readily identified.
   (d) Unless the proposal is to demolish the whole of a building, detailed drawings showing the work to be undertaken should also be submitted (drawn to a scale of not less than $\frac{1}{8}$" to 1'0" or 1:100), showing plans and elevations.
   (e) Applications should be sent to:

The District Planning Officer
Council Offices
