The proposed alterations are generally very sympathetic to the character of this Grade II Listed building. Works to the southern elevation fronting High Street, including repairs to the historic railings, will help to better reveal the building's significance and enhance the contribution it already makes to the Long Sutton Conservation Area.

However, the presence of a very large 'XV' to be etched on secondary glazing in the former shop window would draw undue attention to this later addition, competing for prominence with the historic main house. It would be preferable for the former shop window's secondary glazing to be plain frosted, and the XV - if desired - placed in a more traditional position above the swag motif on secondary glazing proposed for the former shop doorway.

The details of proposals for works to the rear north elevation and the interior are better advised upon by the Council's Conservation Officer. The works will have no below ground archaeological impact.
