Hi Bob

That's fine thanks very much. Now we know what we are dealing with we will get that sorted. For future reference if you have an amendment for a current application it might be better (for us admittedly) if you email the amendments through to me rather than putting it through as a new application.

I don't think from what I have been told that there is provision for putting amendments through the portal. I think you have to put everything through as a new application which can be a little confusing sometimes.

Many Thanks

Karen

Good afternoon,

I have noticed that there is a further application on the planning portal regarding the above. Without going through all of the plans I am guessing that there are some amendments relating to this application but I just wondered if you would be good enough to confirm this and if it only relates to some of the plans as I would rather not print everything off again if it isn't necessary.

Many Thanks

Karen Porter
