

*The picture of the side elevation which faces the neighbour's fence is not available, as the conservatory has been deconstructed. However, I have amended the photo of the side with the patio doors to show what the side parallel to the neighbour's fence would look like constructed. All glass panels facing the neighbour's fence will be frosted, as shown below:

