Ref: Amendment to windows

We wish to amend the original window design for the new bathroom/utility room. The new proposed windows are of the same design as the original windows, only they are slightly longer. I believe these will be more in keeping with surrounding window already on the site and will be more in proportion to the new size of building.

The drawing below shows the new proposed windows.

Dave - I have no objection to this. Can we treat it as a minor amendment to the LBC already approved?
