WORKSPACE

Standard range

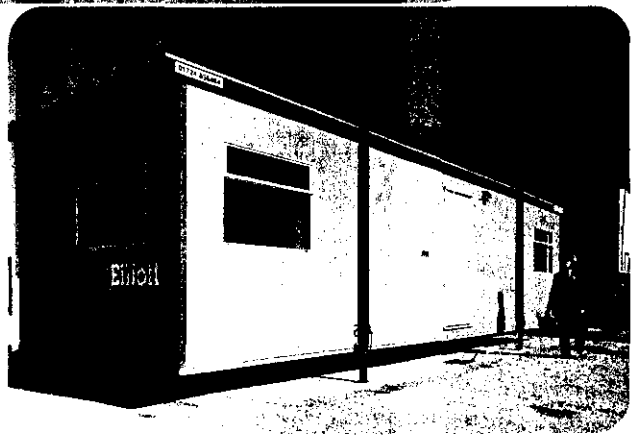

A comfortable and economic solution to your work space needs

The Standard range of Workspace buildings has been popular with users for many years. It is used in a variety of applications and is ideal for the more cost conscious user.

The Standard range comprises both traditional timber jackleg units and bonded steel panel units. They are maintained to a good standard and offer a comfortable and economic solution to your work space needs.

All units are provided with vinyl floor covering, heaters, lights and power sockets.
