Details of the pre-application advice received

I'd called the council previously regarding the extension I hoped to build, and had the existing footings inspected and approved on the 19th January, for the extension to be built on top of the existing ground floor bathroom. I was advised it was allowed under permitted development to go ahead with the extension. At the time I'd planned on the exterior walls to be brick, as per the rest of the house.
On commencing work, it was decided to construct the outer skin in block work and apply a cream render to the external walls, of the extension only, instead; as this would match the render on the next door neighbours house and on many other neighbouring properties.
Kate Bellamy rang on the 9th April, and on discussion, it was advised that the render finish would need planning permission.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
