The report of the archaeological trial trench evaluation submitted have successfully demonstrated that this site is of low archaeological potential. In light of this it is recommended that no further archaeological input being required in association with present application.

The written scheme of archaeological investigation and the final report submitted here meet all of the requirements of this office. We can therefore also recommend that the local planning authority could now discharge the archaeological conditions 5, 6 and 7 of permission H16-0116-22.
