This is a detailed architectural elevation drawing of a three-story building facade. The central portion of the building features a prominent portico supported by four square columns, topped with a triangular pediment. Above the portico, the second floor has five evenly spaced windows, each with a decorative triangular lintel and a wide sill. The third floor continues this pattern with five more windows. To the left of the portico, the second floor has two windows with small balconies, and the third floor has two windows with decorative lintels. To the right of the portico, the second floor has two windows, and the third floor has two windows. The building has a gabled roof with a chimney on the left side. The entire facade is enclosed by a black wrought-iron fence. The drawing is rendered in black lines on a white background.
