SECURITY

- A wide range of security features, gearing and hardware is available to suit all windows and doors.

Windows are the eyes of your home. They let in the light, of course, but they also give you a view of the outside world. They let in the air when it's fresh and keep out the weather when it is cold, windy or wet.

A carefully chosen window also enhances the appearance of your home. Our extensive range has a whole array of windows to blend in perfectly with any home, whatever its size, style or vintage.

Their beauty is more than skin deep too. Professionally built and installed PVC-U windows are also an effective line of defence against intruders.

High security comes as standard with all our products, with features and accessories to repel all but the most determined and professional intruder, but for even higher security, specialised features can often be included on request.
