Kennack Pre-holed Mixed Spanish Natural Slate - 400mm x 200mm

Created for reliable performance on traditional pitched roofs, the Kennack Pre-holed Mixed Spanish Natural Slate - 400mm x 200mm offers dependable quality sourced from a quarry in Ourense. Manufactured to precise dimensional tolerances, it provides consistent flatness, stable thickness and naturally low water absorption. The pre-holed design supports efficient installation and helps maintain accurate alignment across mixed-format roof layouts.

Balancing durability with an attractive natural appearance, this slate delivers strong mechanical performance supported by low carbonate content and resistance to thermal cycling and sulphur dioxide exposure. Its finish suits a variety of architectural styles, from modern extensions to heritage buildings. The 400mm by 200mm format enables tight coursing, helping installers achieve a neat, balanced and long lasting result across the roof surface.
