

Photograph of the existing meter box

Below is a photo of the electric meter box which is already installed. The gas meter box on the other side of the window would be exactly the same, installed at the same height and in the middle between the entrance and the window. The two meters would also be at the same height as a gas meter installed to the right from the shared entrance for 45 Double Street.

