Doors

White & woodgrain

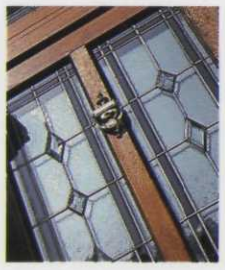

When the door of your home is every visitor's first impression, you really want that impression to count. What better way to make a positive statement as well as securing your home against weather and intruders than with one of our wide range of residential doors? Whether you wish to add visual impact or simply to blend in with the style of the house, there is a door in our range for everyone.

making an entrance

The choice is even greater if you choose one of our lustrous woodgrain effects or, where a door has glass panels any one of a number of varieties of functional or ornamental glass.

Doors

- A wide range of glazing options, together with a choice of door furniture is available to enhance the appearance of your door.