Hi Chris,

Please find attached further details added to the cross section which I hope will clear up the positioning of the new signs for you.

The new signage will sit vertical (i.e. not sloping as per the existing panels), and will be contained within the recess between the corbels. The maximum projection will be 30mm, which is far less than the corbels themselves project.

Kind Regards,

Ian Smith

I simply need accurate survey and proposal drawings that reflect the existing shopfront construction. This should include a vertical section through the shopfront fascia to show how the proposed signage will sit relative to the corbels/mouldings etc around it.
