The stable management will be that the horses are kept on a system of deep bedding which means that there is a layer of rubber matting(which acts as a shock absorber) and then a layer of wood shavings on top. Waste is cleared from the stable daily and is removed from the site once a week via a trailer. No manure will be stored on the site.

The stables will not be rinsed out as the wood shavings means that this is not possible nor necessary.

There is no mains water connection at the paddock nor nearby.
