Thank you for consulting Lincolnshire Bat Group regarding this application. We would like to make the following observations:

This site is close to the River Glen, which is a major foraging area for several species of bats. In addition there are past records of pipistrelle bat roosts in the immediate area. With this in mind, and in the interests of biodiversity gain, we would recommend that a bat box scheme be commissioned for inclusion within the walls of suitable bungalows. There are a number of designs on the market and if installed at gable ends where they are not positioned over doors or windows - where they could cause a potential nuisance with droppings falling on to vertical and horizontal surfaces - they should cause no problems at all and would help to compensate for the numbers of roosts that have been lost over the years.
