Dear David Gedney,

Please see the corresponding email sent 12th May 2016 at 15:48 for Natural England's comments regarding the above application.

In summary, given the lack of information regarding the approach and design of the pontoon installation Natural England is currently unable to advise that there would not be Likely Significant Effect to the designated features of the affected sites.

However, within our detailed response we have suggested a number of conditions, which should the applicant be willing to accept, would adequately mitigate the risks of impact.

Please see the full response sent by email as per the above details.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you need further information.

Kind regards
Rebecca
