To whom it may concern:

This is a short statement to explain the running of my small business:

We moved to the property June 2020 in the middle of covid. It was decided that we'd use the shed on the drive so I didn't have clients entering my home so it was safe for both them and I.

We upgraded the shed adding insulation and flooring and air con/heating system, to make it my place of work.

My working hours are Mon to Friday, a Friday being half day. I have approx. 4/5 clients per day

All clients, except one, park on my private drive. There isn't a cross over as I keep a gap of 10 minutes between appointments for cleaning down. There is never cars parked on the road side outside my property, except for the one client that attend once every 3-4 wks and is only here for approx. 1 hour at a time.

All clients either park on the drive or walk to their appointment as many are local clients.

There is ample room on my drive, if there was ever a cross over, it can accommodate several cars.

I'm a small business and I have no intention of expanding. I have no intention of recruiting staff or cleaners or anything else that may mean more cars. It will always only be myself and my client at the property at any one time during the working hours listed above.

I hope this helps with the understanding of how my small salon business operates

Yours sincerely

Kerri Jarvis
