CASE OFFICER ASSESSMENT

Background

The case officer has visited the site several times in the last 2 years and has been involved with on-site meetings.

The nature of the building, as a residential care home, is sensitive and it is not considered necessary or appropriate to re-visit to take site photos at this time, the plans and submissions illustrate the proposals and the case officer is well acquainted with the site.

In considering any development in relation to historic buildings, the local authority has to assess its historic significance against other issues such as its function, condition or viability. The application is submitted by a care company and the sensitive and important community function is a significant material factor in determining this application.

Proposal

The application is for replacement of an unacceptable and harmful UPVc conservatory which has been the subject of concern for some time now with a timber lobby which will better respect the listed building.

Application site

Pipwell Manor is a late 18th Century red brick farmhouse (Grade II). The listing is long standing dating back to 1966.

The building retains much of its internal and external fabric and architectural detailing and much original joinery.
