report may be a function of the way that the study was conducted. For example, the authors report that 10% of the 1,000 employees in the 10 teams and 10 divisions were not responsive to the survey. As stated above, the 10 teams and 10 divisions were selected on the basis of the fact that they were the most responsive to the survey. It is possible that the 10% of employees who were not responsive were more likely to be in the 10 teams and 10 divisions that were most responsive to the survey. This would mean that the 10% of employees who were not responsive were more likely to be in the 10 teams and 10 divisions that were most responsive to the survey. This would mean that the 10% of employees who were not responsive were more likely to be in the 10 teams and 10 divisions that were most responsive to the survey.
